Curriculum introduction

We learned about the beauty of modern architecture through Australia's Sydney Opera House. The interest in the Roman Empire encouraged Qobo to trace Colosseum of ancient Rome.

Curriculum introduction

Colosseum's original name was "Flavin Circular Colosseum." Ancient Rome advocated force, and the Colosseum shows were organized by the emperors of that time for slaveholders, noblemen, and general audience. The shows included warrior battles or warrior-and-animal battles.

Curriculum introduction

The gladiators in the Colosseum carried out cruel and bloody duels, as only the victor earned the chance of freedom.

The cruel performances continued for 400 years before getting abolished, but the Colosseum building was preserved.

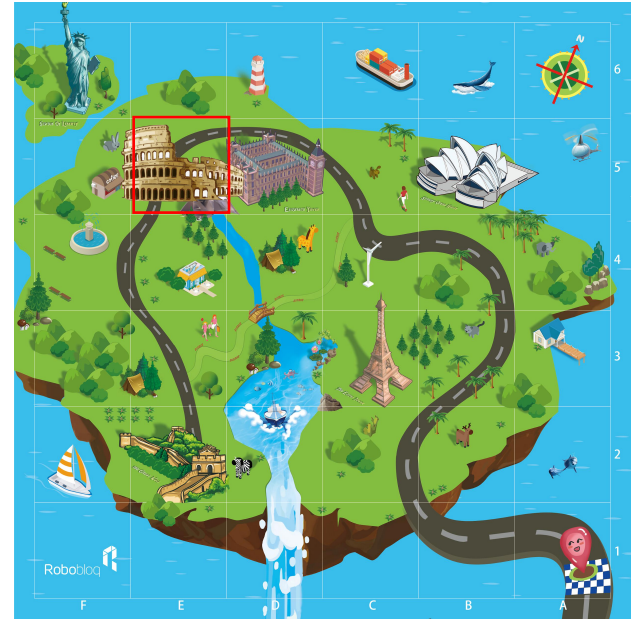

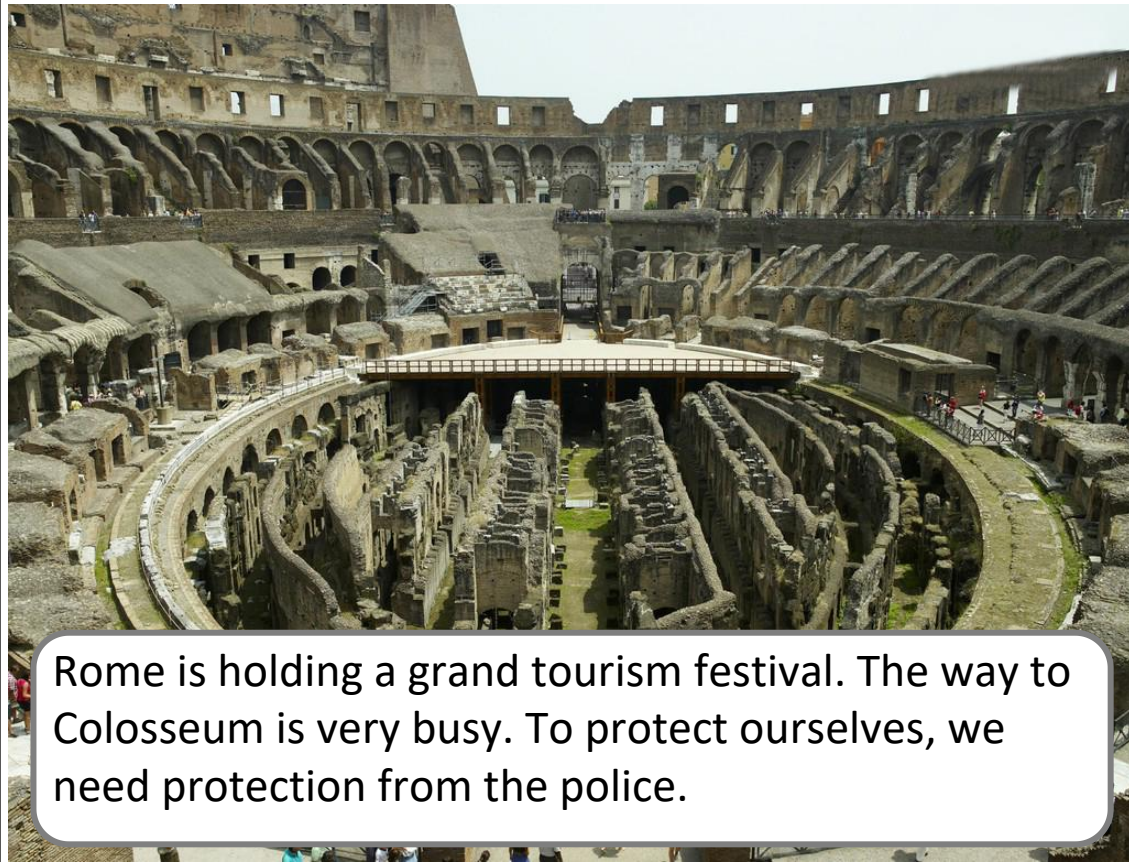

The enemy stands with arms, but my arms are just a trident and a fishing net.

I am a pursuer, specialized in opposing the net fighter.

Card explanation

Police car card:
When Qobo is on the police car card, it plays the siren sound circularly, and then advances one step forward.

Hands and brains

Police car card can help the Qobo enter the gate of Rome Colosseum safely and smoothly, but how do we use police card and other cards to build a reasonable route?

Hands and brains

When Qobo sets out, we used a police car card to go out in a police car. We also used the forward and turn cards to reach the Colosseum.

To prevent traffic congestion that prevents the car from running, we need to design an alternate route. Children, use your head to help Qobo.

Task challenge

Qobo forgot to see the weather forecast when it was traveling. Suddenly, it started to rain heavily. There are some roads that make it difficult for Qobo to pass through. How will it reach the destination?

After-class sharing

What did opponents of gladiators in Colosseum have?
What reaction does Qobo have when it is on the police car card?
In the end, how did you help Qobo to reach the Colosseum?
